

Editor & Writer: Libby Feil, Local & Family History Librarian & Manager

News & Events

Inquiries have been pouring in about our next scheduled genealogy class, so we think it'll be a full house! Make sure to get there early to secure your seat. "Genealogy 101," taught by librarian and genealogist Sara Allen, will be held at 6 pm on Thursday, August 23, in the Tutt Branch on Miami Street.

If you're near Main Library during the next month, be sure to come in and see our new exhibit, "The Art of the Yearbook," curated by historian John Kovach. Maybe you'll recognize some of the artists or school yearbooks highlighted in the display.

Be sure to stop by Local & Family History in September, too, to view sculptural portraits of worthy historical St. Joseph County residents. These sculptures will be created by high school students attending local artist Andrew Wilson Smith's summer class at the South Bend Regional Museum of Art. Once the class has ended, the sculptures will be on display here in the Library, including in our room.

If you subscribe to the South Bend Tribune, now you can read history stories contributed by John and I to the "Through the Years" column. The column appears every Monday in the B section, and roughly every other week will feature a contribution from John or me. If you miss any columns, stop in to Local History and check out our permanent "Local History In the News" display, which will showcase the latest column to appear. You can also read the columns for free on the Tribune's website for a week after they are published. And if you have ideas for future column topics, please share them with me at l.feil@sjcpl.org.

New & Notable Items

- Volume II of Anita Cheek Milner's Newspaper Indexes: A Location and Subject Guide for Researchers
- History of Hastings, Indiana: A History of the Milford-Nappanee Area, by Kenneth Haney
- Foundations of Faith: The Sesquicentennial History of the First Presbyterian Church of Warsaw, Indiana
- Kosciusko County Historical Society: Sketches, by Philip Holliday
- Early Schools and Teachers of Kosciusko County, Indiana: Taken from Papers Compiled by Waldo L. Adams
- Kosciusko County Officials: Kosciusko County, Indiana, 1836-1990, by Mary Nichols Ettinger
- A History of Syracuse, Indiana, and Environs, books 1-5 (1826-1986), by Ronald & Joan Sharp
- Arphax's Family Maps of Indiana's Adams, Bartholomew, Boone, Clay, Daviess, Decatur, Dubois, Gibson, Greene, Hendricks, Howard, Jay, Jennings, Marion, Montgomery, Morgan, Orange, Parke, Posey, Putnam, Ripley, Rush, Scott, Shelby, Steuben, Vigo, and Washington Counties. (We already had the volumes for Elkhart and St. Joseph Counties.)